the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are obese has increased by 100% (World Health Organization 1997).

Obesity is a complex condition, with many causes and consequences. It is a condition that is associated with a number of health problems, including heart disease, diabetes, and certain types of cancer. It is also a condition that is associated with a number of social problems, including discrimination and stigma. The causes of obesity are complex, and include a combination of genetic, environmental, and behavioral factors. The consequences of obesity are also complex, and include a number of health and social problems.

One of the most common causes of obesity is a combination of genetic and environmental factors. People who are obese often have a family history of obesity, and they may also have a lifestyle that is high in calories and low in physical activity. This combination of factors can lead to a condition that is difficult to treat. However, there are a number of things that people can do to prevent obesity, and to manage it if they do develop it.

One of the most important things that people can do to prevent obesity is to eat a healthy diet. This means eating a variety of fruits, vegetables, and whole grains, and avoiding foods that are high in calories and fat. It also means eating a regular schedule of meals, and not skipping meals. Another important thing that people can do is to get regular exercise. This can help to burn off extra calories, and it can also help to improve a person's overall health.

There are a number of other things that people can do to prevent obesity, and to manage it if they do develop it. These include getting enough sleep, and avoiding stress. It is also important to avoid smoking, and to limit alcohol consumption. If a person is obese, it is important to see a doctor, and to follow their advice. This may include taking medication, and it may also include surgery.

Obesity is a complex condition, and it is important to understand the causes and consequences of it. It is also important to know what can be done to prevent it, and to manage it if it does develop. By eating a healthy diet, getting regular exercise, and following other healthy lifestyle choices, people can prevent obesity, and they can also manage it if they do develop it. It is important to remember that obesity is a condition that can be prevented, and it is also a condition that can be managed.

Obesity is a complex condition, and it is important to understand the causes and consequences of it. It is also important to know what can be done to prevent it, and to manage it if it does develop. # "THE DAWNING OF A DECADE"

The 50's were a decade of rock and roll and penny loafers. With the 60's came Vietnam, and the first men to land on the moon. The 70's were a time of Civil Liberties and equal rights.

"The Dawning of a Decade. 1980." What will the beginning of this new decade bring? For seniors, who are the first graduating class of the decade, it is the beginning of a new phase of life as a high school graduate. Freshmen are just starting the final lap of their required formal education.

Each of us has a place in the 80's and every one of us has a contribution to make. We will all be a part of the light in that dawning.

In choosing "The Dawning of a Decade" as the theme for the 1980 Top Hat, we hope to build up a feeling of excitement and anticipation about yesterday's future ... which is today.

Paula Theodore
Editor

Cold weather would not stop the seniors during the Morning of the Mortar ceremony against class from showing their school spirit.

WHAT WILL THE 80'S MEAN TO MORTON?

With the dawning of a new decade, we look toward the future. What will or will not happen? Will inflation continue? Will we run out of gas?

If inflation continues to increase at the same rate it has grown over the past 10 years, prices will skyrocket by 1990.

In 1970, the cost of a new car averaged $3,400. Presently you're lucky if you can purchase the same quality car for under $7,000. A car will cost well over $10,000 in 1990.

Car care will also increase drastically. A gallon of regular gas cost 34¢ in 1970, currently gas averages about $1.00 or more, and by 1990 it is expected to be over a $1.50. Europeans are already paying $2.00 a gallon.

Forever searching to satisfy his huge appetite senior Ron Salach takes a closer look at a pie with a helping hand from sophomore Lorie Woodward at the Cultural Arts Fair.

Many changes have been made on Morton's campus this year. One of which is the in school suspension for rule breakers.

High stepping marchers move with precise steps to the music of "Grease" during halftime of the Morton versus E.C. Washington game.

Assigned parking spaces for driving students are here to stay. Cars not in their designated slots will be forcibly removed.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES.

As the five minute brake period ticks away students rush to their next hour classes.

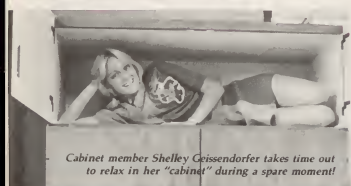

Freshmen Tim Salach sits and relaxes in his room while jamming to the music of his favorite album.

IN COMPETITION WITH THE JOB FORCE.

Shelley Geissendorfer, Tina, Al, and another student are only a few of the camera shy students.

Along with rocketing transportation costs, entertainment costs have increased. In 1970, a couple could go to a movie for a mere $2.50. With rising rates, a night at the movies may become a luxury for a couple, costing approximately $16.00.

Albums may be unattainable to teens in the 90's if prices continue to raise.

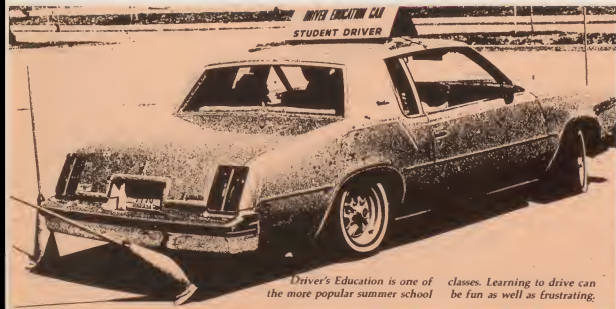

Since 1970, the price of albums has gone from $3.00 to $6.00. If the price doubles again, record albums may no longer be your best entertainment value.

Most students have not been too affected by rising prices, but many of them have had to give up some of their after school activities because of employment.

In the next decade can clubs and activities compete against the job force?

In hopes of getting an "A" on his English term paper senior Don Cruse seeks assistance from library aid junior Shirley Hogan.

RAYMOND REIGNS

The date: September 28, 1979. The time: halftime of the Homecoming football game. Six nervous girls and their escorts walk onto the football field. An excited murmur charges through the crowd. Who will be the 1979 Homecoming Queen?

Senior Class President Al Ramirez asked for the envelope containing the winner's name. Silence fell over the crowd as Al shouted, "The 1979 Homecoming Queen is Donna . . . Raymond!"

Tears of joy streamed down Donna's face as she was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1979 by last year's queen Pam Zabinski.

"I never expected to win. This is the happiest day of my life!" said Donna at the post-game dance.

HOMECOMING — A TRADITION LIVES ON

The days before the game were excitement packed as students dressed in zany outfits.

Jersey Day kicked off the week on Monday, followed by Gangster Day on Tuesday. Wednesday was Fifties Day, brought back by popular demand. Thursday was Western Day and the week ended traditionally with Red and Grey Day.

At the annual assembly on Thursday seniors presented the Miss Gross Pageant, which was won by senior Robert McAfee.

Spirits were aroused early Friday afternoon at a pep rally later followed by the Homecoming Parade. Principal, Dr. Timothy F. Brown, presided as Grand Marshal for the first time.

The year 1979 proved to be the year of the sophomore as they won both the spirit stick and the best decorated truck stating, "Sophomores Add Life".

Morton's brutal victory over Tech, 32-7 gave a glorious ending to this decades last Homecoming.

Senior Robert McAfee displays his award for this years Miss Gross.

"MEMORIES" SET THE MAGIC OF PROM

At the beginning of a new decade, what could possibly be more romantic than a look at the past?

This year's prom treated couples to a dreamy journey down "Memory Lane" on May 2, 1980.

The prom site, Wicker Park Pavilion, was decorated in a nostalgic air of an age gone by, presenting a modern time machine effect unequaled by H.G. Wells.

Promgoers began to arrive at 7:30 for an evening of dancing, picture taking, and a dinner served promptly at 10 p.m.

The night really began to fly as couples were rocketed back to the present by the fast paced music of the after-prom band. The band played until the prom's end at 2 a.m.

Beaches, amusement parks, and other popular "day-after" prom "hang-outs" were crowded on May 34d.

The junior class funded the annual prom with profits from the sale of two year planners, candy, Christmas candles, and sponsoring trips to Old Chicago amusement park.

Exhausted after a romantic evening alumnus Dan Padilla and senior Kalee Sobek head home to get some shut eye.

Preparations are complete and the music is about to begin as couples enter a night they will remember for years to come.

COMMENCEMENT: IS IT A BEGINNING?

Commencement: an origin, beginning.
So states Funk and Wagnall's dictionary.

Commencement is a beginning, but it is also an ending. To start over a high school senior must end what he began four years ago. He must leave his friends, his school, and maybe even his home.

But what is the graduate starting? What decisions does he face?

A Morton graduate may continue his schooling, starting another year in a strange place. Perhaps he will become a working stiff and be forced to support himself.

Another graduation will soon be here.
An ending . . . and a beginning.

Relieved smiles of pride flash across the faces of graduating seniors as they receive those long awaited diplomas.

Anxiously awaiting the moment at which they shall receive their diplomas, attentive seniors listen to speeches with mixed emotions after completing four years of high school.

TOP HAT RETROSPECT

TRIBUTE TO CONGREVE

After a one year bout with cancer, school superintendent Dr. Willard J. Congreve passed away November 29.

Dr. Congreve, who was born on August 16, 1921, donated his body to the Indiana University Center of Indianapolis for research.

Dr. Congreve began his career in 1949 at Lindbloom High School in Chicago and then became principal of Foster Elementary and Von Humboldt Elementary Schools in Chicago between 1958-1960 and was principal of University High School in Chicago and the assistant director of the laboratory school at the University of Chicago from 1960-1967.

Dr. Congreve began his career as a superintendent in 1969 for the Newton Community Schools in Newton Iowa, and served as superintendent for the Washington Township District, Gloucester County, New Jersey from 1972-1975.

In 1975, Dr. Congreve came to Hammond and served as superintendent of the Hammond schools until the time of his death.

The superintendent received his Masters Degree in music from Northwestern University in 1947 and his Ph.D from the University of Chicago in 1957. Because of his love for music, Dr. Congreve and his wife Beth organized the nationally acclaimed Hammond Youth Choir in 1977.

Dr. Frank Sanders Jr., who was the Assistant Superintendent of School Business Management for the past 9 1/2 years replaced Dr. Congreve as Superintendent of the School City of Hammond.

Dr. Congreve will be missed.

POPE IN AMERICA

In early October, Pope John Paul II, after being in office for only one year, made history by becoming the first Pope ever to visit the United States, and the Pope made a seven day tour of the U.S.A., after completing visits to Mexico, and his homeland of Poland before returning to the Vatican City in Rome, Italy.

The Pontiff was received by massive crowds of admirers in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Iowa, and the White House received it's first Papal visit.

The 59 year old Pope voiced the churches views on marriage, divorce, abortion, and celibacy of priests. The Pope objected strongly to women or married men as priests, commenting it was not "traditional."

President Carter addressed the Pope upon his arrival by commenting, "God blessed America by sending you to us."

THE PASSING OF LEGENDS

ous nickname.

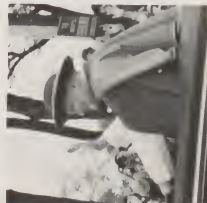

Wayne made his last public appearance at the Academy Awards on April 9th. The audience greeted him with a standing ovation, and Wayne commented that it was, "Just about the only medicine a fellow'd ever really need."

Cancer also claimed the life of 66 year old actress/comedian Vivian Vance last summer. Vance, born in Cheryvale, Kansas, on July 26, 1913, is best remembered for her role as Ethel Mertz, on the "I love Lucy" television series. Vance received an Emmy for best supporting actress on the seven year series. Conductor Arthur Fiedler, Born Dec. 17, 1894, in Boston, passed away July 10, of a heart attack at the age of 84.

Fiedler conducted the Boston Pops Symphony Orchestra for almost 50 years.

The Maestro's television program, Evening at Pop's, held the Public Broadcasting systems largest audience. Fiedler, the first to play Beatles music with a symphony orchestra, traveled throughout the world conducting the Boston Pop's concerts.

CRAZED ROCK-N-ROLL FANS CAUSE HAVOC; CINCINNATI CONCERT BEGINS IN TRAGEDY

As the decade drew to a close, the music scene took a violent turn. In most cases opposites are believed to attract, but the results are not always favorable.

The disco addicts of recent years have attracted one such group of anti-disco maniacs. The high priest of the anti-disco movement, FM disc jockey Steve Dahl, recorded the group's national anthem "If you think I'm disco," and advocated disco demolition.

This summer at Comiskey Park Chicago disc jockey Steve Dahl sponsored an anti-disco night during the intermission of the Sox and Detroit Tigers doubleheader.

The stadium which housed a standing room only crowd of 50,000 people, greeted Dahl with anti-disco chants. A trash barrel of disc records was blown up as the crowd led by Dahl, sang the anti-disco national anthem.

Rock-n-roll fans began pouring out of the stands and started fires in center field, and destroyed the batting box which forced the cancellation of the second game.

At the "Who" concert in Cincinnati on Dec. 3, fans anxiously waited in lines for hours in hopes of getting tickets which were only being sold at the gate.

The bands warm-up caused the crowd to believe the concert had begun, which started a frenzied stampede, toward only 2 open doors, resulting in the death of 11 people.

VANCE WAYNE FIEDLER SILVERHEELS JANSEN

Jay Silverheels, better known as Tonto in the series "The Lone Ranger," fell victim to a heart attack March 6, 1980. Silverheels, a pure Mohawk Indian, appeared as Tonto in 221 episodes from 1949 to 1957.

Actor David Jansen died on February 14 of a heart attack. Jansen, who was 48, was best known for "The Fugitive" and "Harry O'."

MATEJA, ALEXANDER WIN IN LOCAL ELECTIONS

In early November, one of Morton's administrator's and two teachers ran for political office.

Assistant Principal, Mr. Philip Mateja, won the fourth District Councilman election in Whiting over Joe Lynn.

Mr. Mateja in the near future, hopes to encourage Whiting and Amoco officials to establish emergency exits thru Calumet College property for the residents of Whiting and create a better snow removal plan for the town of Whiting.

The second Ward Town Trustee election of Burns Harbor was won by business teacher Mr. Ernest Alexander, for the second time in a row.

"It is the trustee's responsibility to see that the town lives in what would be considered an acceptable budget."

EMBASSY SEIZED; HOSTAGES TAKEN

On Nov. 3, 1979, a group of Iranian students in Tehran, Iran, seized the American Embassy and took 50 Americans hostage. The take over came about under the rule of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

The series of events that apparently caused the taking of the hostages, began when the Shah of Iran, Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, left Iran and went into exile in Mexico and then later came to the United States for medical treatment of cancer.

When Khomeini took over the Iranian government he charged the Shah with alleged crimes, prompting the people of Iran to try to force the Shah back in the country so the former leader could be put on trial.

As time went by, the people of Iran became more infuriated with the United States, saying the United States was harboring their most wanted criminal. The anger peaked on Nov. 3rd.

The students and Khomeini demanded that the Shah be returned to Iran immediately. President Carter refused and the siege continued.

Carter pleaded at the United Nations for the release of the hostages because Iran was violating international law. The vote among the countries was unanimous that the hostages be set free, but Khomeini paid no at-

CAMELOT

A castle with stained glass windows greeted couples as they magically strode into "Camelot" from a high school hallway. Normal everyday teenagers were transformed into metal plated men and ladies fair of old.

Circus murals and seven foot playing cards adorned the walls and cardboard crowns served as centerpieces completing the medieval setting of the semi-formal.

The annual dance, sponsored by the Student Association, featured the band "Three's a Crowd".

The dance was originally scheduled for January 26, but had to be postponed because Morton was hosting the SAT tests that morning and the cafeteria could not be decorated in time for the dance.

Student's reactions to the postponement varied. "Maybe my date will grow taller by then.", "I hope we're still speaking in February", and "Will my dress still fit?".

The extra time allowed still others to get up enough courage to ask someone.

The long awaited dance finally took place on February 23, and after which most couples went out to a restaurant for a quiet dinner.

VISIONS OF ANIMAL HOUSE .....

Wow! Institutel Visions of Animal House captured the minds of students for weeks before going to institutes. Would be instituters dreamed of night long parties and endless days of soaking up the warm summer sun.

Much to the students surprise it was a lot of hard work. Students discovered that institutes are really for learning.

Basic skills of government were put to practice by Girls and Boy's State delegates at Indiana State University in Terre Haute. Delegates were able to vote, attend council meetings, and run their own mini-governments.

Dribbling, rebounding, lay-ups, and free-throws occupied the days of students attending Indiana

University's basketball camp in Bloomington.

New techniques, drills, and ways to arouse school spirit were taught to Morton's spirit boosters this summer. Varsity Cheerleaders attended Ball State University in Muncie, and the Twirlers attended Smith-Walbridge in Syracuse, Indiana.

Effective editing and newspaper layout were taught to Mortonite editors attending the journalism institute at Indiana University in Bloomington.

Picking a theme, designing a cover, and critiquing last year's book were among the duties occupying the time of Top Hat editors, at St. Mary's College in South Bend, Indiana.

RUN

See How They Run is the fun filled romp of mistaken identity. Penelope Toop, wife of the local Reverend, Mr. Toop, introduces her old acting partner, Clive Winton, as the reverend Mr. Humphrey to avoid gossip. He introduces himself to the Reverend Mr. Humphrey as the reverend Mr. Humphrey, in spite of the fact that Mr. Humphrey is pretty sure he is himself and the other man is an imposture. The Bishop of Lax thinks Winton is Toop, Humphrey believes himself to be Humphrey, the Russian spy considers himself to be whichever Reverend anyone wants him to be, Penelope doesn't care who is who, and the Reverend Mr. Toop is lost in the shuffle.

"I'm looking for a friend," replies Clive (junior Tony Maddox) as explanation for his presence in the vicarage.

"Just borrow one of Lionel's suits, then neither of us will get in trouble!" says Penelope (junior Sandi Barnes) to convince Clive (junior Tony Maddox) to go out.

"Look into my eyes . . . you are under my power." Ida (junior Leslie Casper) attempts to mesmerize the Bishop (junior John Swanson).

GODSPELL STAGES TALE

Top Hat Theatre's second production this season was Godspell, a modern musical based on the gospel according to St. Matthew. Godspell is considered a "modern" play due to the upbeat music, outrageous costumes and it's 1960's lower east side, New York City style setting.

The production takes Jesus Christ out of the "Biblical" age and presents his life in a contemporary style. His disciples are dressed as clowns and act out the stories in the Bible with the use of song, dance, and pantomime.

The character of Jesus is also quite a showman, teaching his disciples with magic tricks and ventriloquism as well as song and dance.

The exhilaration of the show takes a serious trend when the character of Judas is introduced. Judas is said to be offered thirty pieces of silver in return for telling the chief priest the identity of the Son of Man.

At the time of the betrayal, the "disciples" remove their clown make-up to symbolize the games are over, then the last supper is portrayed. Judas rushes in, seizes Jesus and "nails" him to a ladder representing Christ's death on the cross.

The music swells with the Lord's pain and winds down at his death. The play ends with the disciples singing "Long Live God" and "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord" as they form a procession to carry the lifeless body of Jesus down the aisle of the auditorium.

Following the crucifixion the disciples carry the lifeless body of Christ offstage for burial.

Cast members, seniors Loree Cornelison, Bridget Lauerman, Pam Magginnis, and Sue Vrahoretis, take time to relax after completing the final performance.

"Good Samaritan" (senior Bridget Lauerman) takes a wounded man (junior John Swanson) to the inn on her "beast of burden" (junior Gary Allen).

Kevin Kolanowski interrupts a friendly interaction between junior John Swanson and senior Loree Cornelison.

When you say the word "school", what do you think of? Naturally classes, studying, and homework come to mind. Sure, these are an important part of school but there is something that you missed. That is CLUBS.

It is these clubs that enable students to take a break from all the brainwork. Here at Morton, one has a wide selection of activities to choose from.

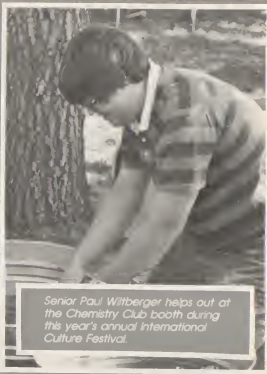

If you are an animal lover, Zoology Club and Herpetology Club are for you. If your hobbies include taking pictures, the club to join is Photo Club. In this club, you take and compare pictures and work with different equipment.

If you have a big mouth, you can join Booster Club or try out for cheerleading. This is just the beginning of the list of clubs here at Morton. For a closer look, turn the page --

“SAY CHEEZ, PLEASE”

Taking pictures, developing and printing film all take a lot of experience. Photo Club not only teaches students how to use cameras and take pictures but also shows them how to develop and print the film. Once a year, Morton's Photo Club sponsors a photo contest to show some of the student's talents and their ability to work with cameras.

"I felt Photo Club helped me a lot by showing me what I had to know about photography," stated senior Top Hat photographer, Ron Salach.

Quill and Scroll is made up of the students on either the Mortonite staff which is Morton's newspaper or Top Hat staff which is Morton's yearbook. Each year, the Morton students who have participated on either of these staff for two semesters are initiated. This initiation takes place at the banquet at the end of the year. Each inductee holds a lighted candle while reciting the pledge and then extinguishes it.

"What is a thespian?" That was a question asked by many of Morton's new students this past year. A thespian is a member of the Theatre Guild, such as an actor or actress.

It's more than just acting. Students can earn points through acting, working on sets, costumes or lighting. It takes twelve points for a senior to become a thespian and fifteen points for an underclass student. For every extra ten points earned, you receive a gold star at the ceremony at the end of the year.

"It was a real honor to be elected secretary of the Theatre Guild and I hope this year's banquet will be a success," stated senior Carol Smitka.

CHOIRS PERFORM AT FIRST MORTON CHRISTMAS SHOW

At 8:00 every morning, Morton's Concert Choir begins exercising. Mrs. Carol Loehrke, choir director, feels this is a good way to wake up in the morning since singing is such a physical activity.

At the pop concert this year, a variety of songs were heard. Cif tunes such as "Summer Lovin'" from the musical "Grease" and the famous Andy Williams song "Moon River" from "Breakfast at Tiffany's", were just two of the many popular songs.

This year, students had the opportunity to attend an in-school assembly to hear the Christmas Concert. This type of activity hasn't been done in the past, and the response was good.

Flower bulbs were sold to raise funds to buy needed equipment. This was also a new activity for the choirs.

GOVERNORS WIN TOP RECOGNITION

The Marching Governor Band, under the direction of Mrs. Glenda Kolar, highlights the halftime activities at all the home football games with music for the pom pon girls and the twirlers and with formations such as a heart or a "M".

The band received first place at the Christmas parade in Hammond, which was televised on Channel 50. The famous San Diego Chicken marched in front of Morton's band.

The drum majors for the 1979-80 school year were senior Chris Reid and sophomore Darla Price, and to add school spirit during football season Chris and Darla wore black and gold drum major outfits to school on the days of home football games.

Band members also competed at the NISBOVA contest in February, and the city solo contest in May.

WOMEN'S LIB STRIKES AGAIN

Summer vacation means having fun and not having to go to school for members of student association. These students helped out at various activities such as car washes and setting up chairs for the Culture Festival.

Choosing spirit days for Homecoming week was one of the first decisions the student association made once school had begun. Jersey day started off the week, followed by Western Day, Fifties Day, Gangster Day, and ended with the traditional Red and Gray Day, on Friday.

February 23 was a date most girls looked forward to. It marked the day of the Inaugural, which is a semi-formal dance, to which the girl asks the boy. The theme of this years Inaugural was "Camelot".

The end of the year marked the annual student elections. A voting machine replaced the homeroom ballots.

CLUBS AWARD STUDENTS FOR TALENTS

With hopes of encouraging interest in foreign cultures, the Foreign Language Club sponsored many activities. Among them was a visit to the Museum of Science and Industry to see the "Christmas Around the World" exhibit. In the spring, the club had an International Potluck dinner, serving an array of ethnic foods.

From October through April, members of the debate team were busy preparing for and participating in various competitions.

"The varsity team members helped to develop the novice team and we all feel they have done a good job this year," stated junior debate member, Priscilla Purnick. This year's fund raisers included working at the Lion's Club pancake breakfast, bake sales, and car washes.

F.E.A. members gained the experience and confidence it takes to become teachers by tutoring students at Scott Middle School. A stationery sale was among the fund raisers that helped boost profits for scholarships to be given to the members. F.E.A. sponsor, Mrs. Hazel Stockdale stated, "We would like to have all people who are interested in a teaching career to join us in the F.E.A."

A good character, participation and good grades are what it takes to belong to the National Honor Society. The members are chosen by the faculty.

NEW EXPERIENCES

Crawling through dark, damp caves sounds pretty unusual, right? Well, it wouldn't be for long if you were a member of Caving Club. This club teaches and helps students learn how to have fun and at the same time learn how to survive in the wilderness. Caving club is mostly for those students who enjoy being outdoors and studying nature.

Horseback riding, sledding, skiing, seeing musicals and concerts are all a part of Travel Club. This club is for those who are interested in traveling or just experiencing new things and places you would like to know more about. This year, Travel club went to Chicago's McCormick Place to see Gilda Radner and the musical called "Dancin'".

TRIPS AND STUDIES

The National Forensics League was busy competing against other schools in various events such as dramatic reading and poetry. Many fund-raisers also occupied the time of team members.

Field trips were on the agenda for the Zoology Club. Members spent time at the Dunes for environmental study, and visited Brookfield Zoo to observe animal training. Members found this to be a very valuable experience.

The Herpetology Club, which is sponsored by Mr. Robert Weiss, participated in many activities this year. Among them was a trip to the zoo, and sponsoring a booth at Woodmar Shopping Centers' Annual Science Exhibit.

Physics Club had a bake sale at the Homecoming dance to raise funds. The Physics Club also attended a science open house at the University of Chicago.

BOOSTERS BRING OUT SPIRIT

To make the activities at Morton High School much more exciting, the Pom Pon squad performs to entertain the students who come to watch the team and Booster Club helps out by cheering on the teams.

Sign paintings, flowermakings, and the annual Junior Senior Powder Puff game are just a few of the activities that the club gets involved in.

Booster Club helps students get into the spirit of things during basketball and football. This year the club sold Homecoming mums in order to raise money for the treasury.

This year's Pom Pon squad, sponsored by Mrs. Helen Hart, consisted of 20 girls. Captains Nina Bell and Linda Lipkovitch went to a pom pon camp in Florida over their summer vacation for four days, where they learned various routines and new techniques.

The girls provided entertainment during football and basketball halftime game shows.

Mrs. Hart provided the girls with many different types of exercises to make sure the girls stayed slim.

Recognition was given to the students who have varsity athletic awards. This year, the club had 15 girls and in '78, M-club had 12 girls.

"I achieved my letter in volleyball, and I'm really honored for being recognized in M-club," stated junior Jane Herring.

"I think girls should be in M-Club. They work as hard as we do," stated senior football player David Mays.

SQUADS BRING OUT CHEERS, SPIRITS

Camp and competition were on the agenda for the cheerleaders and the twirlers this summer, where the squad learned new routines and techniques. Both cheerleaders and twirlers helped with school spirit during the football and basketball games.

During this summer, all the twirlers went to Camp Smith Walbridge in Syracuse, Indiana, from July 1-6. They were considered advanced twirlers and won two awards. During the year, the twirlers sold candy.

The twirlers meet during second hour, after school, and met everyday during the summer. To make up the routines, all the girls put their ideas together and decide which record to use.

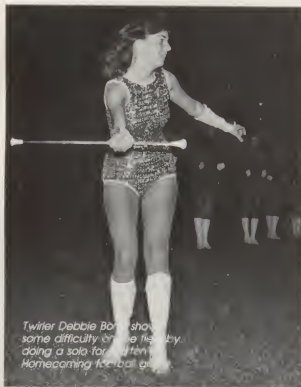

The girls twirled the fire batons for Homecoming. The fire is an every year tradition for the twirlers.

Having fund raisers such as bake sales, selling rootbeer floats at the Fourth of July Celebration at Hessville Park, and selling candy were just some of the activities done by the varsity cheerleaders to raise money toward buying new uniforms. Putting hard work into cheerleading, the B-team cheerleaders work four times a week to practice their cheers and chants.

This year, selling penants helped the B-team squad buy some uniforms for the warm and cold games.

Competition. People thrive on it. Some people even live for it. Morton Senior High School does a good job of competing when it comes to sports.

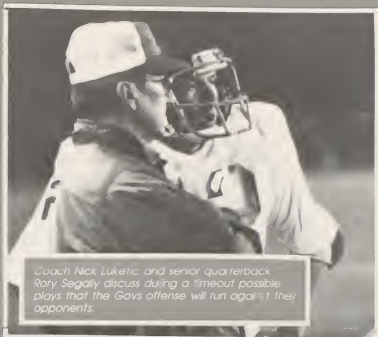

This year our football team was the team to beat. The cross-country team placed first in conference and in sectionals for the first time in the history of Morton. Along with the cross-country team, the volleyball team placed first in their conference.

But no matter what the sport, the players at Morton always put forth their best effort and display good sportsmanship. So when it comes to competition, Morton is always in there fighting.

GRIDMEN GAIN 7-3 RECORD

In the midst of the summer heat when all the teen-agers are enjoying the cool waters of Lake Michigan, the Morton varsity football team is hard at work training for their 79-80 season.

This work paid off as the Governors ended the season with a 7-3 record, the first winning season since 1976. The Govs also placed second in the Lake Shore Conference, the best LSC record since 1977.

In the Football O' Rama, Morton defeated Hammond High and Gavitt, making them the only double winners at the O' Rama.

They continued their winning streak by defeating 1979 District I runner up Highland High, 6-3. The winning spell was broken when the Govs lost the next three games to Munster, Fort Wayne Luers, and Hammond High, respectively. Finally Morton broke the monotony by beating East Chicago Washington, 8-0, with a pass late in the third quarter.

With the squad consisting of 20 returning lettermen, the team was quite experienced. The seniors led the way.

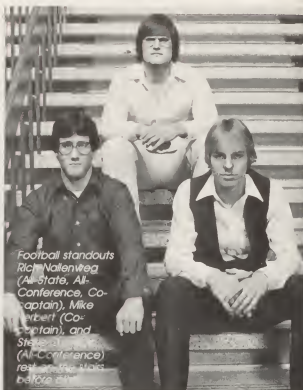

The Homecoming game evened up the record as the Govs crushed Tech, 32-7. Morton's touchdowns were scored by seniors Steve Zubrenic, Darin Bensinger, juniors Tony Gresham, and John Hayduk. The following week against Clark, Gresham led the way by carrying the ball 22 times for 120 yards.

The upset victory against Noll arose the Govs spirits. Morton, not favored in the game, stomped Noll, 20-0. This enthusiasm continued as the Govs pulled out a last second victory against East Chicago Roosevelt, 14-7. The game was topped off with a pass from Rory Segally to Skip Gyure, with only 41 seconds remaining.

Wrapping the season up, the Govs defeated Gavitt 16-6 with a fine performance by junior fullback Jeff Schneider who carried the ball 31 times for 110 yards.

Forced to the sideline by injuries, varsity players Larry Keilmen, Ricky Daniels, Al Ramirez, and Jeff Harnish wish they were out on the field.

Football standouts Rich Nollenweg (All-State, All-Conference, Co-Captain), Mike Belthel (Co-Captain), and Steve Segal (All-Conference) rest on the bleachers before a game.

B-TEAM TALENT SPARKS AN UNDEFEATED SEASON

Winning, there's just something about it. It gives you a feeling that's very hard to describe. To some, there's a feeling of satisfaction knowing that all the long, strenuous practices and hard work paid off. To others, it may be rewarding just to know that you tried your very best. All these feelings and many more were present as Morton's B-Team squad gained an impressive record of 7-0.

One of the most outstanding games of the season was the opener in which Morton went onto gain a 7-6 victory over highly regarded Munster. This lifted team spirit as Morton has not defeated Munster since 1977. Another highlight was the match up between the Governors and Lake Central. The gridmen topped Lake Central out scoring them 13-6, in spite of the last minute scheduling, which prevented them from practicing ahead of time.

Deserving credit is the defensive unit, as the defense only allowed a grand total of 12 points in 7 games, an average of just under .6 per game. Defensive stand outs included safeties John Keilman and Scott Thompson, and left end Tom Miskovich; tackles Rick Rameriz and Marenis Kansfield; ends Doug Heller and Mike Salapski; Frank Clemens and Jeff Oros, cornerbacks.

The offensive unit is also to deserve credit, as their determination enables them to stay and practice longer a couple times a week. Offensive standouts included backs Dennis Zarembo and Tom Ramberg.

"I felt the boys matured and developed from game one offensively and defensively and they gave of themselves 100%, not only in game situations, but also in practice. If I were to sum up the season in one word, GREAT would be it.", said Coach Hunt.

FROSH LEARN SKILLS

The Freshmen football season was quite an experience for the players on the team. The players were in a new school and had to learn a new way of doing things.

As freshmen football coach Mr. Fred Kepler stated, "Although our overall record is not what we would like it to be, we feel our main objective, that of teaching the fundamentals of football and introducing the players to our system, was accomplished.

The Gavs overall record was 5-4 with the help of all the team members. Some outstanding offensive players were Robert Hernandez, Pete Gil, and Tom Corak. They were quite helpful in the Hammond Tech game when Morton crushed Tech 56-0.

They also defeated Clark, 54-0, which made it 110 points in two games to their opponents 0. This is the most points scored in two games by a Morton frosh team.

The Gavs finished up the season by overtaking their arch-rivals Gavitt, 14-6, making it four consecutive years that a Morton Freshmen team has defeated Gavitt. Assistant Coach Don Malcher commented "The Gavitt game was the best overall team effort of the year."

GIRLS CAP SECTIONALS

Success is a common word for the girls' varsity volleyball team as they won the sectional championship title for the second time in three years.

Morton breezed through the first two sectional games beating Whiting and Noll, and in the championship game against Clark, it took a little more determination as it went into three games. Morton pulled it out by winning the 1979-80 Hammond Sectional Title, in three games, 15-7, 7-15, 15-8.

The following week at the regional tournament, the Gavs beat Lake Station 15-5, 15-4, and North White 15-8, 15-0, advancing them to the championship game against the undefeated LaPorte Slicers. The Gavs played an exceptional game, but LaPorte pulled out with it, 15-4, 15-12.

The Gavs overall record was 19-3 and the Lake Shore Conference record was 9-0, making them number one in LSC play.

Renee Vermejan and Joyce Matonovich were chosen captains of the team by the varsity squad. Renee also received the Most Valuable Player Award, also chosen by her team mates.

"This year and the past years in participating on the volleyball team have been a great experience for me. It was a great honor for me to receive the MVP", commented Renee.

"The majority of the season went the way we planned, as a team we had some goals; to win conference, sectionals, and regionals. Two out of three is not bad.", stated Coach Aletta Hicks.

The regular season record was also quite successful, 14-2.

J.V. FINISHES 22-3

With the J.V. Volleyball team consisting mostly of freshmen, the Govs had a quite impressive season. Out of their 25 matches, they only lost three. One of these was to LaPorte, the team to beat, and the others were to Clark and TF-South.

The overall season went quite well. The definite highlight was the victory of the J.V. Tournament.

The Govs dominated the event by defeating Hammond High, Clark, and Whiting to end a successful year on a positive note.

"The girls worked throughout the season as a team. We had no stars, everyone contributed in their own way. Teams with this kind of attitude are hard to find today," commented J.V. Coach Ms. Costanza.

With hopes of setting up the ball, sophomore Karen Holland bumps to the setter.

J.V. POST TOURNNEY WIN

Winning the J.V. Tournament, under the new guidance of Mrs. Susan Cole, was only one of the highlights of the 79-80 season.

In the tourney, the Govs first victory was Clark, with their next victory being over E.C.R. In the championship game the girls went up against Bishop Noll, and defeated them by the score of 26-25, as a last second shot taken by freshmen Chris Spudic from the half court line hit the basket.

"With an abundance of freshmen as teammates, we feel very confident about next year," commented freshman Chris Spudic.

Along with winning a first in the J.V. Tournament, the squad finished with a respectable record of 11-3.

"As a first year coach, I could not of ask for a more enthusiastic J.V. team. The highest point of the season was winning the J.V. Tournament against Noll in the last 2 seconds as Chris Spudic put up the wing and a pray shot that caught only net," concluded Mrs. Susan Cole.

Freshman Chris Spudic led the team in scoring at 7 points per game and freshman Carrie Reid was the top rebounder with 6 per game.

FROST COMPETES IN STATE MEET

As the old saying says "There is a first time for everything", and senior Al Frost proved this statement to be true as he was the first person to represent Morton in the cross country state finals in Indianapolis.

Frost placed 38th in a field containing 140 of the best runners in the state. Frost led the team all year, aiding in their successful season.

Highlights included the Governors eighth place finish in the Semi-State Meet at LaPorte. And earlier, a second place finish in the Crown Point Regional.

The sectional title was also awarded to the Gavs as they finished in front of highly regarded Hammond High. This year was the first time the Gavs won the sectional title since 1956.

"Being able to compete at the semi-state level was just a great thrill for me as well as the team members", stated Coach Bill Archer.

Bright spots this year included junior transfer student Frank Johnson and senior Roy Perez.

The Governors compiled a record of seven wins and one loss in Lake Shore Conference meets.

"The season was successful because as a team we reached most of our goals and ambitions," commented sophomore Lalo Martinez.

Special cross country awards were presented to seniors Al Frost and Ron Brandner for Most Valuable Runner and Most Improved Runner, respectively. Best Mental Attitude award was given to junior Frank Johnson.

"This is the best cross country team I ever coached," concluded Mr. Archer.

LADY GOVS FINISH 6-2

Close games, some eventually going into overtime, were very much a part of the 1979-80 girls varsity basketball season.

One of the "nail-biters" came on December 18 when the Governors were on the road against Whiting.

The score was tied at the end of regulation time, the first overtime, and then the Govs finally yielded at the end of the second extra session 59-57.

Another close game took place on January 16. Morton was on the road again, this time at Bishop Noll.

This contest was one of the more unusual games in recent history, not because Morton won 49-48 in double overtime, but the Governors ended up with only four players on the floor due to fouls and injuries.

"The season was disappointing in many ways, after games I did not feel low, but I did not feel high either. This year's team was not very emotional, but on the other hand they were a fun group of kids. I enjoyed this year," commented coach Lefty Hicks.

The Lady Govs gained a conference record of 6-2 in the 79-80 season, which was good enough to earn them a second place finish in the Lake Shore Conference. Morton finished with a 9-5 overall record.

J.V. — IT WAS A LONG SEASON!

Having an eight man team one might think would sometimes bring up difficulties as a result of foul problems or injury.

Unfortunately, the 79-80 Governor B-Team fell prone to the set backs. But, despite the conditions that occurred, the Gov's managed an 8-11 overall record, and a conference record of 3-5.

Later in the season, matters were even worsened by the loss of sophomore Tony Vermejan to varsity action.

"We could have won a few more of our games since a number of the games that we lost were very close," commented B-Team Coach Greg Jancich when asked about the season.

In the Hobart game, sophomore Brian Cook executes a fast break and finds himself with an easy basket.

With hopes of converting a 3 point play, sophomore Mark Teran shoots from the line.

FROSH LEARN NEW B-BALL SKILLS

It was a long, hard season for the 79-80 freshman basketball team, as the "A" squad finished with a 5-15 overall record and 1-7 in the Lake Shore Conference. The "B" squad compiled a 5-9 overall season as well as being 2-2 in conference.

One factor causing some difficulty was that the five regular starters had only been on the floor together for two games, due to illness, injuries, and ineligibility.

"The season's been very disappointing to all of us, but the reason for our record is obvious with all of the absences," commented freshman coach Rick Volbrecht.

Losing to Merrville Harrison 50-13 in the opening game of the season, the Governors started off with a poor beginning. This was definitely the low point of our season" said

Coach Volbrecht.

But on the other hand, there have been many positive points. One surely is that all of the Governor games have been close with the exception of the Harrison and East Chicago Washington.

An interesting matchup occurred on January 8, when the Govs were on the road against a fairly good Griffith squad. Morton beat the Panthers 37-28.

High scorers for the "A" squad were Mike Brimer and Rob Hernandez. Brimer and Austin Barret also led in the rebounding category. Dave Gonzalez led "B" squad scorers.

GOVERNORS WIN HOLIDAY TOURNAMENT

During a time out, Coach Russ Marcinek instructs his players on how to set up for the out-of-bounds play.

When the 1979-80 Morton Basketball season opened, the one thing the Governors had going for them was experience.

Phil Elo and Scott Lush were starters last year, plus Steve Holmes, Darrin Bensinger, and Roy Perez saw their fair share of action during the 1978-79 season. But, when Morton took the floor for the first two times, they were missing two starters, one due to an injury, and one due to ineligibility and then the entire first half of the season saw the Governors plagued by illness.

However, when the Governors came out of the Calumet Holiday Tourney, the half-way point of the season, Morton was sitting on a 5-4 record, the best since the 1976 Sectional Championship Team. Coach Russ Marcinek's team brought home the tourney trophy on victories over Portage, 84-63, and Calumet, 60-52.

Out of the first 10 games Morton played, four games ended in a two point spread or less. The Govs lost to Hobart 65-64, and beat Lew Wallace 57-55, Crown Point 57-55, and Whiting 46-45.

MORTON TRACKETTES SET FOUR NEW SCHOOL RECORDS; 3-4 IN LSC

Record breaking performances certainly were highlights of the 1979 girls track team.

Junior Ronda Reid, sophomore Sue Bardoczi, and freshman Colleen Johnston each posted new records in the field events.

Reid set the new softball throw record at 203'½"; Bardoczi threw the shot put 31'43/4"; and Johnston set the high jump mark at 4'11".

former mile record with the time of 6:00.1.

The trackettes had an overall record of 3-6, while they were 3-4 in the Lake Shore Conference.

When asked to summarize the 79' season Coach Olive Wade concluded, "It was certainly a great honor for me as well as the team members to have broken so many school records!"

TANKMEN TAKE 2nd IN SECTIONALS

Long, hard hours of practice certainly seemed worth while to the 1979-80 Morton swim team as they broke five school records and tied two this season.

The tankmen placed fourth in sectionals and second in Indiana Lake Shore Conference. The Govs' duel meet record was 10-3.

Senior Scot Tomsic broke three school records and tied one. Tomsic set a new record in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 54.9. The 500 yard-freestyle was also broken by Tomsic with a time of 5:13.0. Tomsic, seniors Al Ramirez and Chris Wilson, and sophomore Dave Rycerz broke the 200 yard-medley relay with a time of 1:46.5. The 50 yard-freestyle was also tied by Tomsic with a time of 23.0.

Sophomore Pat Kowalski set a new mark in the diving with a score of 27.1 and Dave Rycerz, also a sophomore, broke the 200 yard-individual medley with a time of 2:12. Senior Chris Wilson tied his brother's record in the backstroke with a time of 100.5.

Out of the thirteen duel meets, the Governors only lost three. Two of them were to state ranked teams, Highland High and Bishop Noll. The other was to Chesterton.

Sophomore Pat Kowalski only lost one diving competition this season in regular season duel meets. He was beaten by a state ranked competitor from Highland High.

"I felt it was a great season. The team accomplished a lot and we built a good base and foundation for next year's team," concluded Coach Kopercinski, who took over Mr. Bob Hunts position as head swimming coach in 1979. JOE SARWACINSKI aided COACH KOPERCINSKI as ASSISTANT COACH.

TRACKMEN FINISH FOURTH

Placing fourth in the Lake Shore Conference Meet highlighted Morton's track season in 1979 as the Governors ended their year one game below the 500 mark at 5-6.

Senior Jim Heller and sophomore Chris Polochak were the only record breakers during the 1979 season. Heller broke the previous 100 yd. dash record with a time of 10.1 and Polochak set the new freshmen-sophomore mark for the 120 high hurdles and the 330 low hurdles with times of 16.0 and 42.7 respectively.

Mark Riley was voted team captain and was also named the team's Most Valuable Player. In addition, Riley accumulated the most total points during the season as he excelled in long distance runs, hurdles, with the pole vault and long jump as his field events.

Senior Jim Heller was the team's second highest scorer as Heller participated in sprints such as the 100, 200, and 400 yd. dashes as well as participating in many winning relays.

POTTER PLACES 4th IN SEMI-STATE

The highlight of this year's Morton 1979-80 wrestling squad was having one of the players qualify for semi-state competition.

Stan Potter, who was outstanding during the season, became the first since 1975 to qualify for semi-state.

In the Hammond sectional, seniors Stan Potter and Dan MacLean placed first and second respectively. Potter dominated the title match of the 185-pound weight class, 10-2. MacLean advanced by pinning his opponent in the first round of action. He then lost to his opponent in the title match to claim a second in the 138 pound weight class.

Potter then advanced to regionals. He had a tough battle in the championship match, but came out victorious by beating his opponent, 9-4.

In semi-state, Potter defeated his first opponent, 7-1. The second match did not turn out so well for Potter. He lost it in overtime, 9-3. Potter's overall record was 22-4.

The team, which was not so fortunate this season, finished 1-9.

"At the beginning of the season there was no team concept, but by the end of the season, the players were rooting for each other," commented Coach Bob Weiss about the 1979 tennis team.

The racketmen finished the season with a 10-4 record, tying the best season record at Morton.

The highpoint of the season was beating Hammond High, 3-2, in sectionals after falling to them in regular season play, 3-2.

Junior Aaron Soto led the team as number one single player and junior Mike Chance, number two singles player, was also an exceptional racketman. Doubles play were led by senior Bill Golon and sophomore Rob Palucki.

GIRLS PLACE 2nd IN LSC

The 1979 Morton girls' tennis team finished with an impressive season record of 7-2. After the first four matches of the season, the Gov's were 2-2. The remainder of the matches were won. The Lady Govs beat Lake Central, 5-2, Hammond High, 3-2, Gavitt, 4-1, Clark, 4-1, and Lowell, 4-3.

Morton placed 9th in sectionals and their standings in conference were 5-1. East Chicago Washington was the only team that beat Morton. There were five teams under them.

"The highlight of the season was capturing second place in conference and that was made possible by a great team effort and improvement throughout the season," stated senior Gretchen Thorsky.

GOVERNORS WIN CONFERENCE TITLE; FIRST IN TOURNEY

Finishing first in the conference along with winning the conference tourney certainly were great accomplishments for the 1979 golf team, as the Governors finished 15-3 overall and 13-1 in Lake Shore Conference action.

Juniors Bob Soto and Mark Johnson lead the team with 43.1 and 44.3 averages respectively.

Highlights of the '79 season included the Govs fourth place finish in sectionals, out of a total of 18 schools. The team placed 16 out of 28 teams in the Rensselaer Invitational, and they participated in the Lake Hills Invitational Tourney coming in 22, out of a total of 40 schools.

"We had a good season. We were competitive in our conference as we won both the conference and the conference tournament in the same year, which has never been done before.

As usual, we had a very coachable kids, pleasant to be around. A credit to our school," explained Coach Onie Penzato.

After the 1979 season, Penzato retired from coaching. During Penzato's five years, his team won three conference titles, two conference tourneys, and qualified for the regionals twice. Mr. Fred Kepler took over the coaching job.

SOCCER TEAM ENDS WITH 6-2-2 RECORD, 4-1-1 IN CONFERENCE

The 1979 Morton soccer team finished their season with a 6-2-2 record, despite all their unfortunate injuries. Rick Thompson, who led the team in scoring, did not finish the season because of a knee injury. Sophomore Jeff Oros was also injured, but he continued to play.

The Governors started out their season on a winning streak. With only two games in regular season left to play, the Gavs were 6-0-2. The last games, which were to Hammond High and Munster, both were lost, 2-1.

In conference play, the Gavs were second with a record of 4-1-1.

"The season started too soon and the team peaked too soon. The injuries really hurt!", commented Coach John Pimentel.

Jeff DeRolf and Al Skager were team captains. Outstanding players were Ken Kolodziej, a good all-around man, and Jeff Herring, an exceptional offensive player.

Sophomore Scott Appleby tries to get the ball as his teammate, Jeff Oros runs in from behind.

Sophomore Jeff Herring battles for the ball with a player from Hammond High. Herring was able to control the ball and score.

Senior Rick Thompson, who led the team in scoring, was injured during the season.

MORTON BATMEN END YEAR AT 13-10

Finishing the year with a 13-10 overall record, and being 10-6 in the Lake Shore Conference was good enough to earn the 1979 baseball team a fourth place finish in the final conference standings.

Junior Scott Lush had the highest batting average with .378; while seniors Mike Sapyta and Greg Brander were at .338 and .333 respectively. Brander also batted in 27 runs, while Sapyta, Lush, and Phil Elo each brought in 15.

Carrying the team through the season was junior pitcher Steve Zubrenic, who had a pitching record of 4-0, and Lush who had a record of 4-3.

With two outs, a full count, and the tying run on third base, senior Rory Segally nervously awaits the pitch hoping to bring in a run and tie the game.

With the credit total raised to 34 and seniors taking on a full schedule, a larger selection of electives are needed.

The social studies department includes a contemporary problems class. This class, which is taught by Mr. Don Hodson, deals with problems that happened in the past and problems that face the world today.

If one needs an English credit, one can enroll in creative writing, where stories and plays are written. Mr. John Bolinger is the teacher. Reading skills in the English department with Mr. Glen Bacus is another favorable elective. In this class one can improve his reading speed and comprehension.

On the other end of the school a new gym class was added, advanced physical education, taught by Mr. Maurey Ziarnik. The class, open to both boys and girls who participate in activities similar to first year P.E., with greater emphasis on skill improvement.

ACADEMIES

"I think it goes here." Juniors Dave Brady and Kevin Brownwell work on an engine in power mechanics.

Concentration is needed as junior Man Jo Shive pins down her pattern according to the instructions.

Senior Jeff Harper, juniors Jeff Harmon, Rick Ramirez, and John Kellman help each other out constructing their woodshop projects.

STAFFERS ARRANGE YEARBOOK

Drawing layouts, writing copy and captions, and cropping pictures are many of the tasks facing Top Hat students this year.

Top Hat is the class which puts together the annual yearbook, but it is more than just a regular academic class, it is also a fun class.

"Going along to take pictures, interviewing teachers for stories, and helping to put the book together is all part of the staff working together," said Paula Theodore, Top Hat Managing Editor.

As the deadline date rolls around, many students are running around trying to finish on time. The edge editors are a big help in this aspect, as they do many of the odd jobs for the section editors. After two semesters of Top Hat, one can be inducted into Quill and Scroll, an honorary society designed for the Top Hat and Mortonite staffs.

MORTONITE STAFF MEETS DEADLINES

"Will each teacher please send one student from each class to room 238 to pick up Mortonites." This announcement is heard every two weeks.

During the two weeks between issues, the students in Mortonite write copy, prepare layouts, and do paste-ups of the paper.

Mortonite students start each issue by choosing a story to write. The student finds out the facts by interviewing people connected with the story and then writes the story.

Copy editors, Nada Vranic and Cecilia Stojan check the copy for errors.

Meanwhile, the page editors are preparing their layouts from the list of assigned stories and Sandy Hlad and Robbin McNash, layout editors, are responsible for checking that aspect of putting an issue together.

After the layout is completed, the paste-up is sent to the Calumet Press for publication.

The papers are then brought to school, counted out by the students, and distributed.

Besides writing the editorials, managing editor John Bass makes sure that everyone gets their job done right and on time.

"When I took over as managing editor, there were a lot of problems that last year's staff had that I hoped we would not have. I think this year ran smoother than last year and we did a better job," stated John.

EXPERIMENTS CONCLUDE . . .

Science classes are not all long hours of listening to boring lectures and taking notes. They are experimenting, examining the results and drawing the right conclusions.

Animal behavior is a class that fits that description perfectly. In this class, one studies different animal actions, including those of mice and wolves.

Zoology also deals with animals. Students in this class are expected to dissect and study the internal organs of animals such as frogs, turtles, cats, and even animals as large as sharks. Zoology is certainly not for those who have weak stomachs.

But zoology students are not the only ones who are eager to get their hands on a scalpel; biology students are too. Although the animals used are not quite as large as the sharks, they are still as difficult. Only a small part of biology is dissecting. Studying plant growth and making slides are also part of biology. The microscope and the stereoscope are valuable tools to the biologist.

Botanists also rely on tools such as the microscope for help in their study of flowers and plants. In botany, which is only offered in the spring, one studies all the parts of a plant; the root, the stem, the leaf and the flower. The botany students go to the Indiana Dunes to study over 30 different types of wild flowers. Learning to make terrariums is also an interesting part of botany.

Some people think that taking pictures is interesting, and for them the class to take is photography. In photography, one not only learns how to take pictures, but how to develop them too.

Because everybody has different tastes, there are still more science classes, including chemistry and earth science.

A new and different class taught this year is drug abuse, which teaches students about various drugs and their effects on people.

The results prove that the science classes are interesting, informative and worth experimenting.

CLASSES HELP FIND CAREERS

Have you ever considered a job in business after high school? Many people are thinking that way these days and will probably profit greatly from it. Morton offers many different varieties of business classes such as typing, shorthand, notehand, stenography, clerical practice, and bookkeeping or accounting. All of which will help you on your way to a job in the business world.

These classes are not all work either. For instance, every year, the shorthand classes go on a field trip to Chicago with Mrs. Hart, usually in the spring. There, they get a tour of the First National Bank of Chicago, see the Board of Trade Building, and other businesses in Chicago.

Also, in the shorthand classes girls can earn extra bonus points by wearing a dress one day a week. "This helps promote good grooming habits for the girls which plays an important role in making it in the business world," stated Mrs. Helen Hart, shorthand teacher. Hart also urges exercising and eating right to keep fit. The girls are rewarded for this by having their names printed in a newsletter that is sent out once a month to parents and faculty.

Second semester is spent mostly on discussing different careers and finding the right one for you. Mrs. Hart always has a career and fashion bulletin board set up in her room.

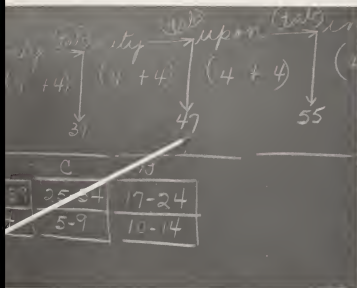

In the shorthand classes this year, there are two boys enrolled which shows the turnover of all girl classes to a balance in both.

In other classes such as clerical practices Mr. Alexander, Business Department Chairman said, "It is mostly learning the use of different machines which should be helpful if you decide to venture into a career in business." A few of these machines are the duplicator, mimeography machine, dictaphones, 9 and 10 key adding machines and also learning how to file papers.

In typing and personal typing classes, one is required to type out letters, envelopes, and manuscripts. Also, there are time writings to do in which one tries to get a better score each time, with as few errors as possible. Then there are always the fun times when students try to type to the beat and rhythm of music.

In the accounting or bookkeeping class, students learn how to balance books and work with figures, which is always helpful in getting a good job.

ENGLISH MADE INTERESTING

Creative writing is a course for those who like to write compositions and stories. This class is a way of expressing yourself through writing.

Composition skills is designed as a review of the basic grammar skills for the non-college bound student. Advanced composition, on the other hand, is designed to perfect writing skills, including research techniques.

Debate or forensics is a class for those who enjoy arguing. It is a class in theory and participation in structured argumentation.

Then there is the famous mass media class in which students tape television shows and commercials they write themselves. This class is perfect for people who like to be "under the lights."

After students complete the required English 1-4, they may choose from any of the other English electives. Among the electives offered at Morton are American literature, world literature, reading skills and more.

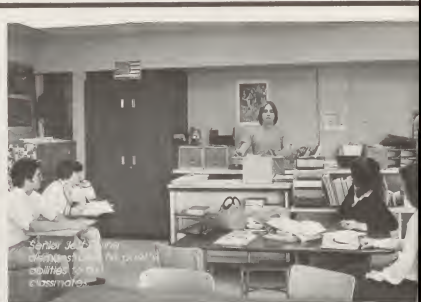

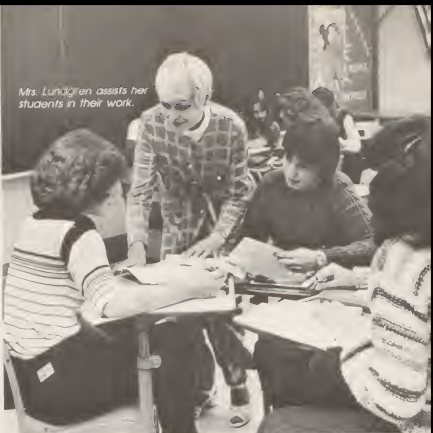

As a freshman, students are required to take English 1 and 2. In these classes students are taught basic grammar and sentence construction, such as diagramming. Sophomore year students are enrolled into English 3 and 4, where they give speeches and read short plays and novels.

The three different one semester literature classes; American literature, world literature, and modern world literature, are all designed as a preparation for college bound students.

American literature is the study of the American national literary heritage, which includes many of the Pulitzer and Nobel prize winners.

World and modern world literature puts a greater emphasis on the classics of both the Eastern and Western Cultures.

Mrs. Lundgren assists her students in their work.

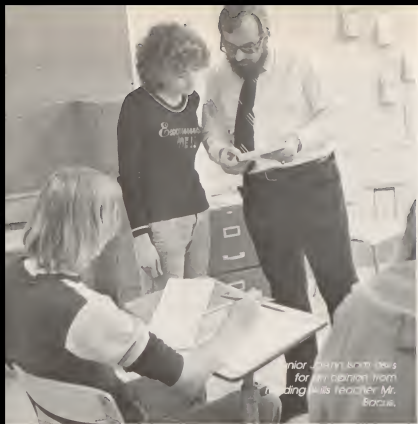

Further development of reading skills in the classroom.

In reading skills, students learn techniques to increase comprehension and speed.

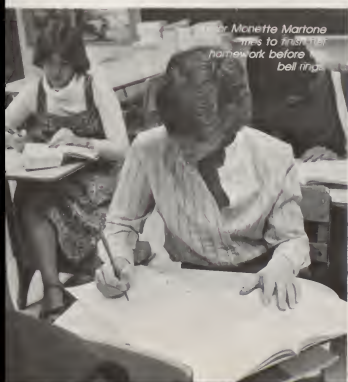

Junior John Bocus discusses for an opinion from reading his teacher Mr. Bocus.

Senior Steve Klosak uses a controlled reader to help improve his comprehension.

A confused freshman finds out that English isn't as easy as he thought.

Junior Mary E. Finkler debates in class.

PUPILS STUDY SHAPES

Picking up a pencil and drawing a picture . . . that's art to some people. To Mr. Anthony Waring's art students, it is much more. Art requires some ability, patience, much concentration, and a lot of hard work!

The first year of art is known as the foundation program. Students are taught the basic principles of art that are essential in becoming good artists. They work with value, space, color, texture, lines, and shapes. To develop better observation and more sensitivity, the students practice "contour drawing"

After learning the basics, the students in art 3-4 learn the proper way of drawing. Art 5-6 deals with sculpture and art 7-8 deals with water colors and tempera paints.

BASICS TAUGHT

Interested in learning more about music, such as musical dictation, time signatures and transpose, then you must be in Mrs. Glenda Kolar's music theory class.

Students learn the fundamentals of music. They learn to read music fast and easily. This is helpful when they create musical compositions that are original.

Ear training is an important practice to teach students different notes. It is usually practiced by listening to the notes on the piano. Sharps and flats are determined by listening to these notes.

Once the basics are learned, all of their acquired knowledge is put to use by arranging songs for the band.

Music theory is a challenging, one semester course.

In hopes of becoming music composers, students listen to Mrs. Glenda Kolar in music theory.

Band director, Mrs. Kolar, shows junior Sue Powers the correct way of reading sheet music.

With the help of Mrs. Glenda Kolar, junior John Berg learns the art of composing music.

CHILDREN STUDIED

Thought you saw an awfully small freshman walking down the hall the other day, right? Well relax, that was just one of the children brought to school for child development. Each year students in child development are asked to bring in a pre-school age child to study his behavior.

With the cost of clothes going up, more girls are taking clothing class.

They learn the basics of sewing, and the proper way to use a sewing machine. From this, the girls are able to make their own clothes.

Students in foods classes have been learning cooking techniques, practicing them, and then eating the results!

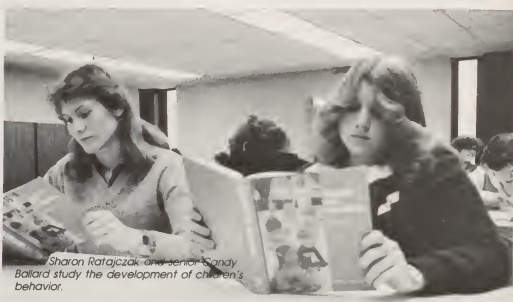

Interpersonal relationships gives girls insights to happy marriages.

Clothing teacher Mrs. Geraldine Hooksma shows Senior Elaine Jansky what type of material to use.

Sharon Ratajczak, a senior, studies the development of children's behavior.

Sharon Ratajczak and senior Sandy Ballard study the development of children's behavior.

With help from Senior Steve Zubrenic, Senior Jerry Osborn learns to cook in single survival.

CLASSES FOR FUN

The foreign language department at Morton is a very complete one, including three different languages; French, Spanish, and German.

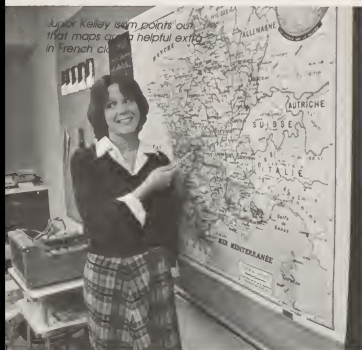

In these classes, one is taught to use the language well enough to get along in a different country.

Also, Morton has a foreign language club for those who like to learn a little bit about different languages.

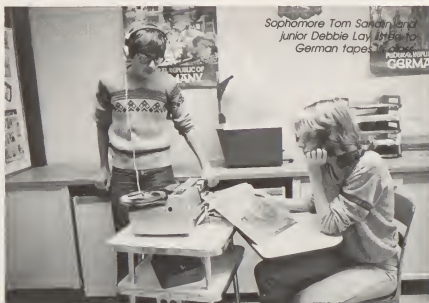

Foreign language classes are a lot of work as well as a lot of fun. Every year, Herr Dieter Meister takes his German classes on a field trip to Germantown in North Chicago, where they see the German way of life and get to eat some of the delicious German pastries and foods.

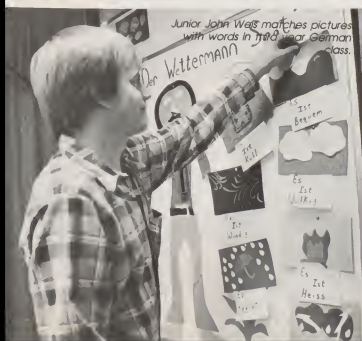

Students are working on the creation of a binata for an assignment in Mrs. Do's Spanish class.

Junior Kelley Isom points out that map as a helpful extra in French class.

Three students help each other with a project in a foreign language class.

CAR ENGINES ARE REBUILT

To give knowledge, to teach an occupation, and to interest one in an avocation are the three main goals of the industrial arts department. Mr. Onie Penzato, metals teacher, believes that the industrial arts program is one that people can enjoy and also benefit from by participating in it. In Power Mechanics 1, students spend the first six weeks getting to know their cars. They learned the parts of the car and how to give a car a tune-up. To be knowledgeable consumers, the students study many different guarantees of cars. This should help them in the future when they are buying cars of their own.

Power Mechanics 2 is an advanced class. This year, these students rebuild three car engines.

How to use basic hand tools and machines is one of the first things taught in Woods 1. Once these machines are demonstrated, each student is expected to use them when doing his projects. Every student makes the same first project so the teacher can determine his capabilities and the degree of difficulty for the next project.

Welding and forging are two of the main practices of the students in their first year of metals. Introduction to industrial arts is a class that a student must take before he takes any of the industrial arts classes.

Mr. Cliff Snow instructs senior Ken Wright on the fine points of tuning up an engine.

For a smooth finish senior Rob Cashen sands his project in woodshop.

Precise drawings require concentration for senior Mike Bermingham in mechanical drawing.

With hopes of becoming an expert mechanic, junior Scott Wisniewski tries to repair a carburetor in power mechanics.

To test Ohm's law, seniors Ted Janowski and John Saeger carefully construct a circuit according to the book in electronics class.

MATH CLASSES SCARE STUDENTS

If the words analysis, advanced algebra, and trigonometry scare you a little, you are among a vast number of high school students who feel the same way. These classes are some of the college-bound math courses offered here at Morton.

The classes are here to prepare students for college-type math. Students are still a bit afraid of taking the higher math classes because the courses simply "sound" hard. The classes are designed for those who like to take challenging courses.

The more general-type classes are taken by those who just simply want to get by. The general math classes just go over basic mathematics concepts that everyone should know. Some teachers also try to introduce the metric system to students, a system which will come into effect in this country very soon.

Classes like geometry and algebra help to teach students how to think.

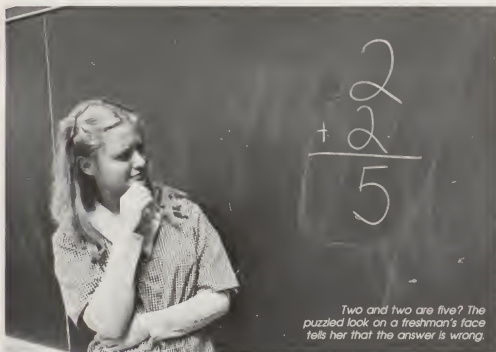

The two-year requirement for math is not always easy to meet after the two years are completed, many students do not take any math classes in their junior and senior years. However, some students choose to go on to take the harder college-prep courses.

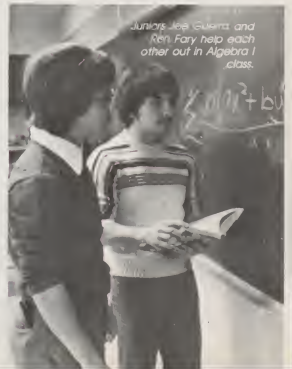

Dr. Ennaggar's geometry class helps solve the construction of some problems.

Constructing identical arcs on lines presents a problem for Mrs. Damiano's geometry student.

Two and two are five? The puzzled look on a freshman's face tells her that the answer is wrong.

ADVANCED P.E. ATTRACTS STUDENTS

Along with the regular boys and girls gym classes, a new one was added this year, advanced physical education, taught by Mr. Maurey Zlotnik.

The class is scheduled seventh hour and they participate in the same activities as first year P.E. but at a more advanced level.

Advanced P.E. is open to boys and girls, both in one class. Senior Steve Holmes a student in Advanced P.E. commented, "It is a little different than first year P.E. since it is co-ed, but none of the boys seem to mind."

The regular gym classes participate in such activities as basketball, crab soccer, football, gymnastics, square dancing, swimming, tennis, volleyball and many more. The teachers are Miss Hall and Miss Hicks for the girls, and Mr. Hunt and Mr. Zlotnik for the boys.

To jump over a horse in gymnastics may sound difficult, but freshman Sue Zawadzki jumps over it with ease, as freshman Jennifer Cox spots.

Freshman Sue Zawadzki concentrates intensely while doing a routine on the parallel bars in her third hour gym class.

Doing exercises before class enables freshman Bob Gathin to loosen his muscles to prevent an injury while playing basketball.

Exciting! This does not seem to be any problem for freshmen Sue Gies and a friend as they run through a square dance routine.

Dribbling down court looking for an open shot, junior Larry Keilman tries every way possible to get around junior Jeff Cro.

UNCLE SAM, MONEY, AND CULTURES

Social Studies — N. pl: a part of a school curriculum ... usually made up of courses in history, government, economics, sociology, and geography. Added to the list of social studies electives second semester was women's issues. It was started by Mrs. Jane Hall.

The course is divided into three major parts: the history of women in America, issues and problems concerning women today, and choices and challenges that face women today. Contemporary problems is taught by Mr. Don Hodson. "In contemporary problems, we talk about things in detail that a lot of people really wouldn't know. Some of the topics we discussed were the tragic childhood of Charles Manson, and why cult leader Jim Jones destroyed a lot of people in Guyana," stated senior Nada Vranic.

While studying in the library, freshman Karen Ondo attempts to complete a term paper for her geography class.

Junior Debbie Vance, and seniors Michelle Weatherford, Jami Snyder, and Kaley Sobek look through magazines for articles in economics class.

Junior Mike Holpel is surprised to find out in U.S. History that the Atlantic Ocean is on the right side of the map.

Driver's education class is not as easy as one might think as senior Mike Herbert found out last summer during a parallel parking session.

Careful planning and hard work go into studying as students concentrate on their work in order to use their study.

For Sue Grahame and Junior Steve Brown help out the Youth Conservation Corps by working outdoors by planting a tree.

"Practice makes perfect" is a common quote driver's education teachers tell their students during summer school courses.

YCC BUILDS NEW FITNESS TRAIL

Junior Ron Fary dreams of being speed racer during a break in driver's education class.

Students heading toward the beach to relax and have a good time is a sure sign that school is finally out.

Summer is a time to take it easy, but for some students it's back to the books for three more months of school.

Summer school consists of economics, government, English, social studies, etc. For the coming freshmen, typing is available, and for some students driver's education is offered.

If you're the one for money, the Youth Conservation Corps employs many students to work around the school grounds.

The students worked on such things as planting and watering trees, laying sod, taking care of the Morton Nature Center, and last summer, the Y.C.C. built the "Fitness Trail".

While in summer school, Melbred, Mary Polak, concentrates on perfecting her skills for a possible secretarial job in the future.

STUDENTS RECEIVE

To become this year's DAR award recipient, one had to be nominated in homeroom, and then selected by the teachers from the 18 names submitted. Sue Vrahoretis was selected to represent Morton and take an essay type test involving current events, history, government, and economics questions.

Pam Magginis and Paulette Murchek competed with singers from Northwest Indiana to gain acceptance in this year's All State Choir. Selections were based upon the students ability to read music as well as to sing.

Titles of Mr. Football, Miss Volleyball, Mr. Tennis and Mr. Cross Country were given to honored sports players at a Booster Club dance. Rich Nallenweg, Renee Vermejan, Bill Colon, and Al Frost (respectively) were chosen by the student body in homeroom ballots.

NEW PRINCIPAL SHAPES UP MORTON

Look around you. Do you notice anything different in the school environment this year? You should! Many changes were made this year at Morton. One major reason for these changes is Morton's new principal, Dr. Timothy F. Brown, who replaced Dr. W.W. Becker this year.

Dr. Brown has a long list of credentials. He was an English and Humanities teacher in Indianapolis, an administrator at Dyer Middle School, and supervisor of instruction for three Hammond Public High Schools.

Dr. Brown has made many alterations in the curriculum this year. The big problem in the parking lot has been solved and you won't be seeing any more beer cans lying around because of stricter enforcement of the rules on lunch hours and at dances.

Also, each student was assigned a parking space. If a student parks in the wrong space, they risk getting their car towed away at their own expense. All in all, Dr. Brown has done a fine job of cleaning up Morton.

The administration, faculty and student body were saddened by the loss of the Superintendent of Hammond City Schools, Dr. Willard Congreve, who passed away on November 29, 1979. A moratorium to Dr. Congreve is on page 19 in this book.

Two other new faces have joined the Governor counseling staff this year. Ms. Marilyn Bercik has replaced Miss Judith Anderson, and Miss Wilma Clair has taken Mrs. Marsha Weiss's place.

The counseling staff has come up with a new policy for schedule changes this year. If a student wants a schedule change, that student must write a letter explaining the change needed and get the letter signed by their parent or guardian. The counselor then looks at the letter and decides whether or not the student should receive the change. This method has avoided much havoc in the counseling department.

Seven new teachers have joined the Morton teaching staff. They are Mr. Stanley Bobowsky, Mrs. Elaine Craig, Mr. Jeff Hayden, Mrs. Colantha Hill, Ms. Ramona Engle, Mr. Tim Margerum, and Mr. Tom Schaefer. Mrs. Mikler is the new paraprofessional, and Mrs. Francis Michalak is the new school nurse. These new teachers were a welcome addition to the MHS teaching staff.

MHS FACULTY ENJOY EXTRA LEISURE TIME

Mr. Joel Romero spent some of his Friday nights last fall keeping the "down marker" at the home varsity football games.

Biology teacher, Mr. Robert Spry, carefully places a turtle back into its home after a class discussion.

Mr. Stanley Elgas browses through costumes carefully trying to select the correct one for a Top Hat production.

Junior Varsity Basketball Coach Gregg Janich works out every day after school in the gym to keep himself in fine physical condition.

Mrs. Carol Damiano, Mr. Rick Huber, and Mrs. Elaine Craig discuss what seems to be a funny math problem.

Coach Russ Marcinik instructs one of his varsity players to the proper position on the court.

"I can't believe it! Seniors already. Where did the past four years go?" Comments like these can be heard around school as seniors go to their last homecoming, football and basketball games, and their "last" dance.

Remember when we were freshmen and our class won the spirit stick? Sophomore year dragged on and we could not wait to be juniors. And, of course, junior year when the junior powder puff team beat the seniors 12-0. What a night!

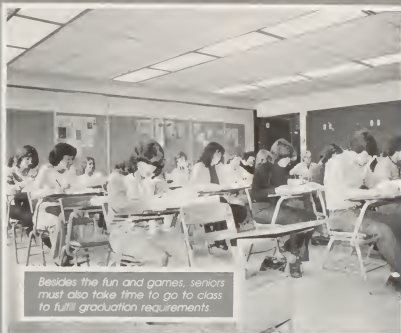

Now at last the long awaited senior year. Everyone looks forward to it, yet we also are hesitant when we think of leaving Morton forever. But even after we leave the halls of Morton, we will not leave our memories. They will always be with us.

SENIORS

Seniors Chuck Shive and David Gusek put the last minute touchups on the senior homecoming float.

Besides the fun and games, seniors must also take time to go to class to fulfill graduation requirements.

Seniors show their enthusiasm and excitement hoping to become the recipient of the spirit stick during the pep assembly.

June brings sadness for some relief for others

Four years ago, a group of frustrated and nervous freshmen appeared at the doors of Morton High. At first, timid of the size of the school, we walked along trying our best to stay out of the way of the seniors. Now, before we knew it, those four years had passed and we were the seniors laughing at the freshmen, remembering that we had been the same way.

Yes, as we look back on those years, each one of us will hold memories that can never be erased from the heart. The good times of football games, dances, and the not-so-good times of term papers, detentions, and homework.

We came into this school a group of indecisive young teenagers, and as we leave, hopefully, we will have grown up. We will be more sure of ourselves, our lives, and our future. We won't even be able to thank the countless number of teachers and friends who have helped us along the way. The climb to the top was a hard, demanding one and many times we wanted to quit, but the realization that without the education we have received, we would never be able to let our lives amount to anything.

As June approaches closer some of us are filled with sadness at the thought of being finished with school. Although college may be the plans for some, it can never be as high school was. The close friends we had in high school usually don't attend the same college, and as much as one would like to continue friendships, sometimes they must end in order for new friendships to begin. Letting go of your childhood and stepping into the adult world is something we all must face.

It is sad to think it is almost completed now but it is a good feeling to know that we have learned enough to start out as young adults in the world. High school has given us a base to start on, something which has taught us a very important factor in life — responsibility. It taught us to set goals for ourselves and if it was what we wanted that we would have to work our very hardest.

This will be the last time I will see all the seniors with such a serious expression on their faces. Each of their minds wondering how those years could have gone by so fast. It seems we had only just begun to become sure of ourselves and now we're being pushed out the doors into that wide world of adulthood.

And finally my name is called and I walk with my head held high and I look around to see all those proud parents patiently waiting to see their own son or daughter walk up the aisle with jelly knees. Now with diploma in my hand I turn my tassel and realize it's over and slowly a tear slips from my eye and rolls down my cheek.

So, we the class of 1980, shall step out into the world and put our best foot forward. It will truly be the dawning of a new decade after twelve years of preparing. We will be the adults of tomorrow, the educators of the future.

Juniors learn a lesson from mighty seniors

Powder Puff football isn't all fun and games. Traditionally it is a great rivalry both mentally and physically between the juniors and seniors.

To play in the Powder Puff game the girls had to make sacrifices such as practicing long hours after school or at night. In order to be eligible to play in the powder puff game, the girls had to attend six practices, possess a C average or better, and not have any unexcused absences. Also, this year a teacher had to be present at each practice. The preparation culminated Friday, November 2, with all the girls wearing their jersey to school. After weeks of practice, it was all over.

The seniors won 18-6. Senior Sandy Hlad scored two touchdowns. Senior Renee Vermejan scored one touchdown as did Junior Tina Sknerski.

The seniors first touchdown of the game came in the first quarter as Sandy Hlad scored on a reverse. Their second score came in the third quarter as Janee Babbit threw a 30 yard pass to Hlad. The seniors final score was on a short run by Renee Vermejan. Junior Tina Sknerski scored their only touchdown on a run in the third quarter.

Brian Adams, Dave Dowling, Tony Gresham, Ed Hernandez, Jeff Juscik, Larry Keilman, Dave Parrish, Mike Riffle, Jeff Schneider, and Dennis Zarembo coached the juniors.

The seniors were coached by Mike Fleming, Mike Herbert, Ed Kielbasa, Bob McAfee, Dave Mays, Rich Nallenweg, Al Ramirez, Chuck Shive, and Tony Soy.

During the week senior Janee Babbit gets individual and a pep talk from her coaches.

Preparing for the big game seniors Edith Merriam and Janee Babbit practice passing each other. It paid off as the seniors were over the top.

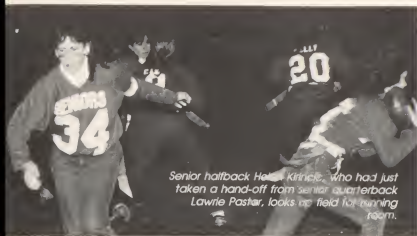

Junior/Senior Powder Puff games away the seniors huddle around quarterback Lavine Pastor to listen to some important advice.

As Junior Shelley Getssendorfer tries to dodge around the senior defensive unit, she faces trouble when trapped by seniors Patty Mays and Karen Staudak.

Senior halfback Helen Kirsiele, who had just taken a hand-off from senior quarterback Lawrie Pastar, looks up field for running room.

In an attempt to gain yardage senior Helen Kirsiele struggles to break through the line.

In hopes of scoring a touchdown senior Ruby Teran dodges junior Patty Jansky.

Juniors Tina Sknerski and Nancy Hladek run through the hole at the annual Powder Puff game.

Senior quarterback Lawrie Pastar unsuccessfully attempts a forward pass during the first quarter.

Studying, getting involved, and having a good time are the three essential parts of high school. All three are needed in order for high school to be the best years of our lives.

This year the freshmen were just getting acquainted with the new surroundings and new teachers. All the freshmen met many new friends and students.

The sophomores started the year off right by winning the annual homecoming spirit stick. They won the spirit stick by participating at the football games and the homecoming pep rally.

The juniors spent most of their time raising money and working on the prom. The prom was at Wicker Park Memorial Club House in Highland. As the year comes to an end, the juniors anxiously await their senior year.

UNDERCLASS

While on the lookout for teachers, junior Mario Matakovic decides whether to pull the fire alarm or not.

Freshman Robin Martin looks in the door to see how much time of her lunch hour is left.

"This looks like the place." Freshmen Mike Brimer and Mark Wilson check to make sure they have the right room.

Class of "81" plans prom

"Will we have enough money?"
"When will the band get here?"
"Will everyone have a good time?"

These were some of the questions that were asked by many juniors as they prepared for the annual Junior-Senior Prom at the Wicker Park Club House.

With the help of the two junior sponsors, Miss Diana Vasquez and Mr. Michael Harris, three years of fund raising activities were a success.

"All the hard work that was put into the fund raising activities really paid off," stated junior class secretary, Barb Sertic.

This year's activities included car washes during the summer with calander and candy sales during the year.

Although the juniors were unsuccessful in the annual Powder Puff game, they did obtain first place in the Homecoming float competition.

Mr. Michael Harris, junior class sponsor commented, "The small group of juniors who participated in class activities are very enthusiastic and hard working students who are capable of getting the job done."

out into the world

Junior Debbie Calderon learns that making a living isn't so easy as she goes through boxes and boxes of shoes looking for just the right size and color.

Sitting on Santa's lap is one of the ways in which junior Kelly from gets into the Christmas spirit.

Working for the holidays, Subling, a part-time store clerk, has a new job. Subling earned her money for the year's Christmas holidays.

Sophomores show accomplishments

The beginning of a new school year brought along a problem for the sophomores. They didn't have a class sponsor. But two generous teachers came to the rescue of the sophomore class, Mr. Dan Mayerik and Mrs. Shirley Rotenberg.

Sophomore year is a time to look at schedules and requirements that need to be fulfilled for graduation. It also means the privilege of choosing a class ring.

Fund raising activities kept the sophomores very busy. During the summer, car washes took place at neighborhood gas stations.

Key chains and stuffed animals were sold at the beginning of the year in addition to the windshield scrapers that were sold during the winter months.

Selling carnations on Valentines Day and corsages on Mothers Day also aided the class in their fund raising activities.

The sophomores have been a very responsible class and they work together to achieve their goal.

Mrs. Rotenberg stated "This is a very good class that has many enthusiastic, hard working students and I think the class will be a very successful group."

Homecoming week was very special to the sophomore class this year. During this week, they showed their creativity by winning the number one decorated truck in the Homecoming parade. The sophomores also exhibited their school spirit by winning the annual Booster Club Spirit Stick.

"Because of the hard working students in the sophomore class it has been a successful year," commented sophomore class secretary, Marie Dankanich.

New Start for Frosh

Coming to a new school can be exciting as well as scary. Many anxieties go along with being a freshman, such as wondering if you will be accepted at a big school or getting lost and walking into the wrong classroom.

But as freshmen adjust to high school life they find it full of new experiences.

Meeting new friends, joining clubs and Homecoming festivities were a brand new part of a freshman's life. Homecoming is extra special because two freshmen were elected as Homecoming attendants.

To help the freshmen in achieving their goals are class sponsors Mr. Jeff Hayden and Mrs. Mona Sherman.

"The freshmen class is just getting organized and hopefully we will be working hard at earning money for the Junior-Senior Prom," stated class sponsor, Mr. Hayden.

From Camera

Freshmen Jane Orzech promotes school spirit by cheering her team to victory.

"Wait your turn," says freshman Mike [name obscured] as he tries desperately to make a move.

Four freshmen hot-rod-ders dream about the day when they can have their own car.

It didn't take long for these freshmen to get into the swing of things. They seem to be having a great time.

"Practice makes perfect," says freshman Tom Corak as he passes the ball to his teammate.

With inflation hitting America more and more everyday, we need places where one can go to purchase food, clothing, and household objects without hitting our wallets too hard. A wide variety of places are available in Hessville.

If a student is really hungry at lunch, he does not have to settle for cafeteria food. Within walking distance are Bonanza, McDonalds, Taco Bell and Pizza Hut. For the students fortunate to drive, Arbys and Wendys are close by.

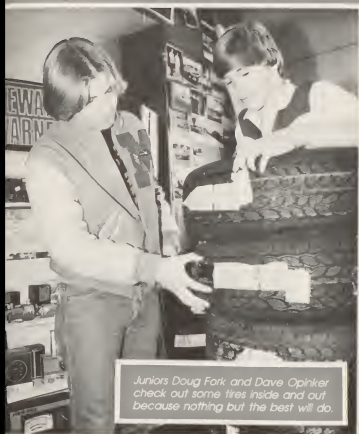

In the clothing department, this area has an abundance of stores, such as Woodmar Shopping Center, The Gap, and Goodeal Pant Co., just to name a few.

For ordinary household items or groceries, Van Tils, Jewel, Ribordy Drug, Fifield Pharmacy, and Lindy's True Value Hardware take care of the problem. So as one can see, Hessville is well equipped with business' to serve the people.

NEW DECADE HAS BRIGHT DAWNING

Good-bye 70's. Thanks for the memories, but it's time to be moving on.

We hope the 1980 edition of the TOP HAT will not only bring back memories but will also serve as a catalyst in helping us achieve our goals in this new decade.

I guess every editor, in their closing comments, tries to relate to the school the tremendous amount of hard work it takes to publish a yearbook. And no matter what I say, the only way you can fully appreciate the dedication and work is to be a part of the staff. In simple terms we collectively spent over 10,000 hours producing this book.

Contrary to popular belief, they were not all fun. Many hours were filled with frustration and just plain hard work ... but certainly, now that it's all over, it was worth it!

A big thank you to all the staff! You were great to work with and you can be proud of your accomplishments.

Each of the 60 staff members know that they have had a part in the designing and content of the book. It is truly a unique product.

A note of special thanks goes to Mr. Bob Henning, our yearbook representative, for helping us make it through the year. Also to our advisor, Mr. Scott Markley, for his continued support and for his little pushes to keep the ball rollin' when the work slowed down.

Thank you Bodie photographers Harry Dudzik and Jerry Misewich for the bulk of the pictures in this book and also Andros Studios for underclass pictures.

I hope you will enjoy reading this edition of TOP HAT from time to time as you live through the "dawning" years of the 80's.

Best Wishes,

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1 million (Office of National Statistics 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's services. The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently in their own homes; older people should be able to participate in the community; older people should be able to access the services they need; and older people should be able to live in a safe and secure environment. The strategy also sets out a number of objectives, including: to improve the quality of life of older people; to reduce the number of older people who are in care homes; to improve the access of older people to health and social care services; and to improve the safety and security of older people's homes.

The strategy is a key document for the development of older people's services in the UK. It provides a framework for the development of policies and practices that will improve the lives of older people.
